Celebratory Fireworks

A wedding celebration Fireworks display is typically held either at the Cake Cutting or at the Conclusion of the Reception. (Size of Shells may be substituted based on AHJ approval)

The PRELUDE

Multiple booming salutes and a rapid-fire barrage call attention to the display. A short pause is followed by...

The MAIN BODY PRESENTATION

The main body of the show is fired with all manner of specialty shells including selections of color changing, color with comet tails and palm trees, color brocades, diadems, willows, crackling and whistles, Peony and Chrysanthemums. Five and six inch shells crown the presentation and include all specialty shells and additional selections of spectacular rising tail comets to serpents, multi-report, color-changing, bees, crackling stars, rings. The effects are selected for altitude and concussion and are timed to create a rhythm that compliments the occasion and venue.

The GRAND FINALE

The FINALE then proceeds with a torrent of color, glitter and flash as three, four, five and six inch shells are fired in rapid succession. The finale ends with resounding salutes that deliver flash and concussion to punctuate the presentation.

Additional effects may include:

Close Proximate effects including Sparkling Fountain Gerbs and Ground Strobes.
Mylar Streamer Launches at Finale over Audience/Guests.
Close Proximate Smoke Jets and Flame Effects

These may be combined with a Celebratory Fireworks display to accomplish a multi-sensory experience.
